Office Hours: Tues/Thurs 2:30 -4 pm

Lecture:  Tues/Thurs 12:30 – 1:50 pm
CENTR 115

Course Description
This course provides an introduction to the study of Asian Americans in a comparative American and global context. As required by the interdisciplinary nature of the field of Asian American Studies, this course will rely on a range of historical, literary, visual texts and media. We will examine the racial formation of Asian America in concert with and in contrast to other racialized communities in the United States, as well as its relationship to global developments like colonialism, war, and capitalist expansion. The course is especially concerned with thinking through historical formations with contemporary developments, such as racial incarceration during World War II and post-9/11 profiling.

2) ES 20 Course Reader sold by University Readers. Course readers can be ordered online at http://www.universityreaders.com/students. You may also call 800.200.3908 or 858.552.1120 for help with ordering. The book and reader are on reserve at the Social Sciences and Humanities Library.

Requirements 1) Reading: You should complete the readings for the week by the beginning of Tuesday’s lecture, except if you are in the Monday Section A05, in which case you should finish the readings by Monday. Doing the readings will help you to get the most out of lectures and section discussions. Please bring assigned readings to lecture and section as we may refer to them.

2) Attendance and Participation: Attendance at lecture and discussion section is mandatory. Quizzes may be given occasionally during either lecture or discussion. Film and media shown in class will not be available for re-screening. 3) Writing Assignments: Assignment #1: Due at lecture October 12
Assignment #2: Due at lecture November 16
4) Exams:
   Midterm: Tues, October 24
   Final: Wed, December 6, 11:30-2:30 PM

Grading*
Section Attendance, Participation, and Quizzes: 15%
(Section grades are assigned by teaching assistants and based on attendance and active participation. Merely showing up for section does not mean one automatically receives a passing grade. Moreover, we will reward thoughtful and quality participation, not volume.)
Assignment #1: 15% Assignment
#2: 15% Midterm Exam: 25%
Final Exam: 30%

Course Policies
   Classroom conduct: Please be respectful to other students, the professor, and teaching assistants. Phones, Blackberries, and pagers must be turned off in the classroom. Please do not arrive late or leave early from lecture or discussion sections, read unrelated material while in class, or converse about unrelated topics.
   No early or make-up quizzes and examinations will be scheduled, and no incompletes will be given in this course. All assignments must be submitted to receive a final grade.
   Writing assignments are due at the beginning of lecture and must be submitted as hard copies only; no e-mail attachments accepted. Late papers will receive one-half letter grade deduction for each day they are submitted past the due date, and no papers will be accepted more than one week after the due date. Professor reserves the right to make copies of student papers and assignments.
   If you have a documented disability and anticipate needing accommodations in this course, please make arrangements to meet with me soon. Please bring a notification letter from the Office for Students with Disabilities outlining your approved accommodations.
   Students are responsible for following all oral and written directions for assignments. Please keep in mind that your grade may be adversely affected for disregarding guidelines. Ask questions if you require clarification.
   Your grade is not an entitlement; it must be earned. Furthermore effort alone will not guarantee a high grade. If you submit careless and mediocre work, you will receive a grade that correlates with your submission. However, continual excellent work will be rewarded.

Academic Honesty Policy
Plagiarism is a serious violation, whether intentional or inadvertent. Easily recognized, plagiarism is insulting to those who take the time to read your work but an embarrassment to you most of all. All work submitted in this course must be your own and original. You may not copy sentences or paragraphs from books, web pages, or any other source. The use of sources such as ideas, quotations, paraphrases, or anything written by someone else must be properly acknowledged and cited. If you have questions about when and how to use citations, please refer to this guide: Charles Lipson, Doing Honest Work in College: How to Prepare Citations, Avoid Plagiarism, and Achieve Real Academic Each student is expected to be familiar with UCSD’s Policy on Integrity of Scholarship, available at http://www-senate.ucsd.edu/manual/appendices/app2.htm#AP14. Here are some important excerpts of the UCSD Integrity Policy:

No student shall engage in any activity that involves attempting to receive a grade by means other than honest effort; for example:

No student shall knowingly procure, provide, or accept any unauthorized material that contains questions or answers to any examination or assignment to be given at a subsequent time.

No student shall complete, in part or in total, any examination or assignment for another person.

No student shall knowingly allow any examination or assignment to be completed, in part or in total, for himself or herself by another person.

No student shall plagiarize or copy the work of another person and submit it as his or her own work.

No student shall employ aids excluded by the instructor in undertaking course work or in completing any exam or assignment.

No student shall alter graded class assignments or examinations and then resubmit them for regrading.

No student shall submit substantially the same material in more than one course without prior authorization.

Ethnic Studies Major or Minor at UCSD

Many students take an Ethnic Studies course because they’re interested in the topic or simply need to fulfill a social science, non-contiguous, or other college requirement. Often students have taken three or four classes out of interest yet have no information about the major or minor and don’t realize how close they are to a major, minor, or even a double major. An Ethnic Studies major is excellent preparation for a career in law, public policy, government and politics, journalism, education, public health, social work, international relations, and many other careers. If you would like information about the Ethnic Studies major or minor at UCSD, please contact Yolanda Escamilla, Undergraduate Advisor, Department of Ethnic Studies at 858-534-3277 or yescamilla@ucsd.edu.
