Course Description:
What is discourse? What is the power of discourse in the distribution of privileges, disadvantages, as well as punishments in society? How does discourse serve to distribute relative privilege, power, advantage and disadvantage in U.S. society and internationally. This course explores the roles that race, culture, gender, nationality, sexuality plays in medical discourse, education discourse, prison discourse, and political discourse. We will examine the construction of institutions (e.g. medicine, schools, prisons, communities…to name a few) in shaping common ideas about nations, social movements and groups and identities. Students will develop a critical analysis of how people resist, subvert, and reconstruct discourse to their own purposes. Most importantly, students will apply this analysis to their own political and intellectual projects in this class with a historical perspective.

Required Texts:

Michel Foucault, Discipline and Punishment The Birth of the Prison (1977, any edition)

Films: (1)The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks (2017). Available to stream on Amazon Prime Video or Rent for $3.99. Please plan now to view the films before the assigned dates on the Course Assignment Schedule.
(2) A Film about Julyamsh Pow Wow 2017. Available on YouTube https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KsjaF_vGvKw

❖ Attendance and Participation: I expect you to attend all class meetings regularly, on time, and to actively participate in class discussions and be prepared for the day’s work. More than two (2) unexcused absences will seriously affect your grade.

Participation means constructively engaging in class discussions. Participation includes being considerate of both your classmates and instructor. This means arriving on time and staying for the duration of the class. It requires you to be respectful when someone else is speaking. Please avoid interrupting or ignoring others who are speaking, and please treat people whose opinions differ from yours with the same respect that you would like them to accord you. ETHN 185 is a course that could be uncomfortable and/or controversial. We will be discussing sensitive and emotionally charged topics, such as race, class, gender, colonization, religion, and poverty. We aim to foster an atmosphere in which we all feel free to express our ideas without fear of being judged, and we can discuss the issues in an open arena. Therefore, personal attacks, ethnic slurs, anti-immigrant, classist, racist, sexist, homophobic remarks, and offensive language, written or spoken WILL NOT BE TOLERATED. Students will be held to the university-wide policies established in the UC San Diego Student Conduct Code.

❖ Critical Reading Response and Discourse Analysis: Students will submit a 4-page critical reading and discourse analysis from any reading from the course. This is due by the end of Week 9. (Due Nov. 27/29, 2018)

❖ Midterm: The mid-quarter assessment assignment will cover Weeks 1-6 material. (Nov. 8, 2018-IN CLASS) BRING A BLUEBOOK!

❖ Proposal for Final Project: Proposed plan (1-3 pp.) for their Final Projects. (Due Oct. 23, 2018)
Final Project: Students may choose Option A--Create a presentation of your choice of media with an accompanying write-up of the project description, analysis, and rationale (5 to 7 pages) or Option B--Write a 12 to 15 page analytical essay on a topic of your choice for the Final Project. Due Final Exam Date.

Late Work Policy:

All graded assignments must be submitted to pass the class. Late submission of assignments will be accepted only in verifiable emergencies and only by arrangement with me prior to the due date. Assignments turned in late without prior approval will lose one grade for each day late. For example, an “A” paper submitted one day late will receive an “A-“ while the same paper submitted two days late will receive a “B+” etc.

Academic Dishonesty:

Scholastic dishonesty is an act by a student that misrepresents the student’s own academic work or that compromises the academic work of others. Examples include cheating on assignments or exams, unauthorized collaboration on assignments or exams, sabotaging another student’s work and plagiarizing. Plagiarism is presenting someone else’s work as your own, intentionally or not, by failing to put quotation marks around passages taken from a text or failing to properly cite quoted material. SERIOUSLY, CITE YOUR SOURCES! See the UC San Diego Student Conduct Code.

Email and Classroom Conduct

Please turn off smart phones, tablets and other electronic devices prior to section. Surfing the internet while in class is prohibited and you will be asked to leave class!

Make sure your email is correct so that I may contact you by email. I welcome your emails with questions about our course and related issues. When you email me, please be clear and concise with your questions about assignments, readings, and lectures. I will respond within a reasonable time, typically 24 hours, excluding weekends. Course assignments will not be accepted via email.

Majoring or Minoring in Ethnic Studies at UC San Diego

Many students take an Ethnic Studies course because the topic is of great interest or because of a need to fulfill a social science, non-contiguous, or other college requirement. Often students have taken three or four classes out of “interest” yet have not information about the major or minor and don’t realize how close they are to a major, a minor, or even a double major. An Ethnic Studies major is excellent preparation for a career in law, public policy, government and politics, journalism, education, public health, social work, international relations, and many other careers. If you would like information about the Ethnic Studies major or minor at UCSD, please contact Mónica Rodriguez de Cabaza at 858-534-3277 or ethnicstudies@ucsd.edu.
