Section B00

Class Time: Tue-Thu, 9:30 - 10:50am, CENTR 109

Review Session: Wed, 6-7.50pm, CENTR 105

Course Objectives:

As the first of the macroeconomic sequence, Econ 110A introduces students to macroeconomic modeling. It is designed to teach students how to apply models to understand current macroeconomic issues. We will cover short-run models of economic fluctuations, medium-run models of price flexibility, and long-run models of economic growth.

Required Text:

O. Blanchard, Macroeconomics (5th ed.), Pearson/Prentice Hall.

The UCSD custom edition available at the bookstore is a paperback with black and white illustrations (instead of color illustrations) and is cheaper than the hardcover edition. Either the custom edition or the hardback 5th edition can be used for the course.

Recommended Readings:

It is recommended that students get into the habit of browsing the daily newspapers like The Wall Street Journal or The Financial Times, or the weekly magazine The Economist at least a couple of times per month. This will provide some context for the course.

Course website: http://webct.ucsd.edu

This is where you can access syllabus, class handouts, your grades, homework assignments, solutions, etc. Importantly, students should use WebCT (and not the e-mail) to ask all the questions related to this class. WebCT is accessible to registered and waitlisted students.

Grade Determination:

Students will have the following possibilities to demonstrate their abilities in Macroeconomics:

	When	Weight
Midterm Exam I (in class) Final (cumulative)	Tue, May 3 rd Tue, Jun. 7 th , 8.00 - 11.00am Thu, Jun, 9 th , 8.00 - 11.00am	40% 55%
Homework assignments	Every week	5%

Grades for the course will be computed from a weighted average of grades on the above items, using the weights listed above. No extra-credits are available. Almost every week, homework assignments will be posted online, and discussed during the review sessions. The homework assignments are far more important than their relative weight (5%) would indicate. They provide excellent opportunities to apply concepts from the lectures and the material in them is likely to appear in the exams.

Class policies:

In order to establish a fair and level playing field for all involved, the following will be enforced without exceptions:

- 1) Coming to class and review sessions is entirely voluntary. No attendance will be recorded. No points for attendance will be given. However, the lectures will be more mathematical than the text, and examples related to the current economic conditions will be provided that do not appear in the textbook but are fair games for examination.
- 2) Students are expected to take all exams, to avoid a fail grade. Only in exceptional cases of serious illness or other problems, a student may be excused from an exam provided a doctor's written note or appropriate documentation is presented to the instructor before the exam. If a student is excused from an exam, his/her grade will be computed using relative weights identical to those above. No make-up exams will be given.
- 3) All the exams must be taken at the scheduled time and place. Students who arrive late will not receive extra time to complete their exam. Once a student completes the exam and leaves the exam room, no other student will be permitted to start the exam. No notes, books, study aids, calculators, cell phones or other personal electronic devices will be allowed during the exams.
- 4) Any re-grade consideration will be subject to three rules. First, a re-grade of one question will involve a re-grade of the entire exam. Second, exams written in pencil cannot be regraded. Third, you have to bring your request for a re-grade to the TA in writing, explaining carefully what you think the problem is. Final deadline for a re-grade request is 48 hours after the exams are handed back to you.
- 5) Any student found guilty of academic dishonesty will earn a failing grade for the course. In addition, the standard procedures described in the UCSD general catalog will be applied. For a review of these policies, please see

http://www-senate.ucsd.edu/manual/Appendices/app2.htm

6) For questions related to adding/dropping the class please refer to TritonLink or contact the undergraduate advisors in Sequoyah Hall 245.
