

Professor Valerie Ramey
Econ 87
Winter 2007

The Economic Approach to Public Issues

This seminar uses simple economic tools to analyze a variety of current public issues, such as global warming, the war on drugs, health care, the environment, and Social Security.

Class meets in Econ 210 from 12:30 – 1:50

Meeting days are:

Monday January 8
(Monday Jan. 15 is a holiday)
Monday January 22
Monday January 29

Wednesday January 10
Wednesday January 17
Wednesday January 24
Wednesday January 31

Grades are based on participation and an in-class essay on the last day of class.