

ETHN 125R: Contemporary Asian American History
Winter 2023

Instructor: Dr. Christen T. Sasaki

Zoom Office Hours (via Canvas calendar app): Tuesdays 12:30-2pm (Pacific Time) and by appointment

Email: csasaki@ucsd.edu (allow 24 hours for a response)

Course Description

This course explores a series of historical issues in Asian American Studies, focusing specifically on power and inequality as it relates to major issues such as immigration, colonization, citizenship, war, community, social movements, and politics. Throughout the course we will examine a variety of materials including scholarly writing, primary documents, cultural productions, and creative work to address issues such as the formation of ethnic communities, labor, role of the state, and race relations. Weekly lectures, films, activities, and readings are designed to provoke active discussion and lead to a critical understanding of the links between history and our present day political and socio-economic context.

*Note: This syllabus is subject to change; the syllabus of record is kept updated and posted on the course website.

Course Format:

This is a reading intensive, quarter-long fully remote class. Each week, you will be expected to log into the Learning Management System (CANVAS) and participate in the weekly assignments: watch the asynchronous lecture videos to enhance your learning, read the required texts and/or watch the required films, and participate in online discussions that probe your reaction to the topics considered. Each module corresponds to a particular week and is formatted in the order I suggest you complete the material.

You are also required to take 4 online quizzes via Canvas to practice and demonstrate your knowledge. Your participation and engagement with the learning activities is crucial to succeeding in this course.

If you have not used Canvas before, please refer to the student help guides and videos, which are located on the left-side menu's help section (the question mark icon). Should you need any technical assistance with Canvas, please alert your instructor and send an email to UCSD Ed Tech at servicedesk@ucsd.edu.

Course Learning Objectives

CLO #1: Students engage in critical dialogue on the relevance of Asian American history and experience.

CLO #2: Students identify connections between historical processes and contemporary phenomenon impacting Asian American communities.

CLO #3: Students apply critical thinking and analytical skills to primary and secondary sources.

CLO #4: Students demonstrate their skills as academic writers.

Required Texts: (available in hardcopy (on reserve) and digital format via UCSD Library)

1. Erika Lee, The Making of Asian America
2. Readings posted on Canvas via web or PDF

Course Grading:

All Class General Postings (Week 2 and 10) (10%):

You are all assigned a general question to answer in a formal discussion post during Weeks 2 and 10 via our class discussion board. Specific instructions will be posted with your prompt.

Discussion Group Post and Peer Response (20%):

You will be assigned to a small group of ~6 people at the end of Week 2. Starting in Week 3 you are tasked with responding individually to the posed prompt about the reading assignment/material by 11:59pm Pacific Time (PST) on Thursday. Your formal written responses should be fairly brief at 300 words. You are expected to reply to at least one of your small group peers' posts with a thoughtful and formal response of at least 250 words by 11:59pm PST on Saturday. You will do this ONCE per quarter.

Late posts and responses will not be accepted. Further instruction will be included with each post.

4 Online Reading Quizzes: 8 questions, multiple choice/TF, timed at 60 minutes (20%):

You will be given 4 online reading quizzes that will be based on readings and course material (during weeks 3, 5, 7, 9). They are designed to test your comprehension of assigned readings and help you review major course concepts as the class progresses. There are no trick questions. All quizzes are timed at 60 minutes and are open book. Make sure to have a secure internet connection when taking the quiz. There are no make-ups for do-overs because I drop your lowest quiz grade. I will average your three highest quiz grades for your total in this category. Quizzes will open on the Sunday of the assigned week and close that week Friday at 11:59pm PST.

Annotated Bibliography and Paper Proposal (20%): Due Week 6

In preparation for your final research paper, you will submit a paper proposal of your potential research topic and locate and summarize at least three peer-reviewed sources via the UCSD library. This is due Week 6. Turnitin.com will be used for all written assignments. More information to follow.

Research Paper (30%): Due Sunday, March 19 by 5pm PST

For this 1,500-1,750 word paper (6-7 page) paper, you are tasked with choosing one of the themes/issues that we cover in class and explain how it continues to impact Asian America in the present. You will clear your topic with me when you turn in your paper proposal.

A minimum of 3 academic, peer-reviewed sources outside of class material are required for this paper. These sources can be in addition to or the same as the material you used in your annotated bibliography. You should also incorporate all relevant class material. Turnitin.com will be used for all written assignments. Detailed information will be provided in a separate instruction guide.

Policy on late final papers: Late papers will be docked 1/3 of the final grade for every day late, up to three days past due. After this time, I will not accept late papers.

I understand that these are difficult times for all. If you have a personal issue that you need to discuss that impacts your ability to succeed in this class, you are welcome and encouraged to visit my scheduled office hours so that we can find a workable solution. If you have a scheduling conflict, I will work with you to arrange a time to meet. Please do not wait until the end of the course to inform me of a significant problem as this will make it much more difficult to address.

Office Hours:

Unless otherwise noted, I will hold online office hours every Tuesday from 12:30-2pm (Pacific Standard Time) via Zoom. Use the calendar function in your calendar side bar to reserve an appointment time with me by 9pm the night before my office hours. Please do not sign up for more than one time slot at a time. I will send you a zoom link and confirm our meeting time. If you can't make my office hours I will work with you to find another time to meet.

Online Etiquette

This course is built around a policy of mutual respect. Effective written communication and open academic dialogue are crucial for sustaining a learning community that is respectful, considerate, welcoming, and thought-provoking. In an online medium, expressions, meaning, and tone can often be misinterpreted, making it imperative that online learners adhere to the communication guidelines below:

- Treat your classmates with respect at all times, in all forums
- Be thoughtful and open in discussion
- Be aware and sensitive to different perspectives
- If we are in a live synchronous section, please make sure to mute yourself unless you are speaking and use the raise hand function.

The following behavior should be avoided:

- Using insulting, condescending, or abusive words
- Using all capital letters, which comes across as SHOUTING
- Contacting learners about or posting advertisements and solicitations

For more information, refer to: <https://ucsd.edu/about/principles.html>

General Questions:

If you have a general question about the assignments or readings, please post to the Q&A discussion board in the "General Information" module on our Canvas site. Questions will be answered by the class instructor and this information will be made available for the whole class.

Academic Honesty and Honor Code

None of us want to spend our time navigating the university's academic misconduct processes, and you should not want to deal with the consequences of academic misconduct hearings and penalties. More importantly, you have to invest the intellectual energy in the coursework to benefit from it and be a contributing member of the learning community. Our experiences as a learning community are enhanced if all of us can cultivate authentic relationships built on trust. For these reasons, please follow the university honor code.

All members of the university community are expected to assume the responsibility of observing certain ethical goals and values as they relate to academic integrity. Essential to the fundamental purpose of the University is the commitment to the principles of truth and honesty. This Honor

Code is designed so that responsibility for upholding these principles lies with the individual as well as the entire community.

The purpose of this Honor Code is to foster and advance an environment of ethical conduct in the academic community of the University, the foundation of which includes the pursuit of academic honesty and integrity. Through an atmosphere of mutual respect, we enhance the value of our education and bring forth a higher standard of academic excellence. No member of the University community, including students, faculty, staff and administrators, shall act in any way that could reasonably be construed as an intentional misrepresentation or deception in academic or professional matters. For the university academic integrity policy, please see <http://senate.ucsd.edu/Operating-Procedures/Senate-Manual/Appendices/2>

Academic misconduct is forbidden and can result in serious negative consequences. Academic misconduct includes, but is not necessarily limited to the following:

- Plagiarism, including any representation of another's work or ideas as one's own in academic and educational submissions.
- Cheating, including any actual or attempted use of resources not authorized by the instructor(s) for academic submissions, and/or any actual or attempted effort to assist another student in cheating.
- Double submission, including any submission of an academic work for more than one course without expressed permission.
- Fabrication, including any falsification or creation of data, research, or resources to support academic submissions.
- Use of AI software (Chat GPT), including using AI software to write your paper and then editing it.

All work submitted in this course must be your own, original work. Each student is expected to be familiar with and abide by UCSD's policy on Integrity of Scholarship available at: <https://academicintegrity.ucsd.edu/process/policy.html>

You will receive an automatic "F" for this class and be reported to the University should you choose to submit plagiarized work of any kind or cheat. The University's Policy on Integrity of Scholarship states that students are expected to complete the course in compliance with these standards. No student shall engage in any activity that involves attempting to receive a grade by means other than their own work. If you have any questions, ask your professor. A student found to have violated the university's academic integrity standards will be subject to academic and other disciplinary sanctions ranging from failing the assignment or course, to suspension or expulsion from the university. Ignorance of these standards will not be accepted as justification for their violation.

The Associated Students Office of Student Advocacy is a free and private resource that works with students who have been accused of violating Academic Integrity or Student Conduct. Via one-on-one zoom sessions, their Student Advocates provide support and guide students through this complicated process to make sure they understand their options and ultimately receive due process. You may contact them at asadvocacy@ucsd.edu.

For specific policies regarding academic misconduct at the university, please refer to <https://academicintegrity.ucsd.edu/process/consequences/index.html>. Students are advised to retain a copy of this syllabus in their personal files for use when applying for certification, licensure, or transfer credit.

Please note that I will not accept duplicate assignments. In other words, I will not accept an assignment turned in for another course, unless you receive prior permission in writing from the previous instructor and we agree on the necessary conditions for the submission.

Citations:

For your final paper you are required to cite your sources carefully using the Chicago-style of citation for footnotes.

For online threaded discussions, please use the parenthetical author/date method of citation.

The guide is posted on the first module of our Canvas page, but you can find a style quick guide here: https://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html

Accommodations

If you have a medical condition or different physical or learning need for which you may need accommodation in order to participate fully and successfully, please register with UCSD's Office for Students with Disabilities so that they can provide the appropriate assistance:

<https://disabilities.ucsd.edu/students/registering.html>

If you prefer to be referred to by a different name or a different gender than the one under which you are official enrolled, please inform me so that I can adjust accordingly.

Counseling and Psychological Services

UCSD is committed to enhancing and caring for the psychological well-being of the entire campus community. The UCSD Counseling & Psychological Services Office is here for you. Please refer to this link for more information on services available and how to make an appointment:

Student disclosures of sexual violence

UCSD fosters a campus free of sexual violence including sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and/or any form of sex or gender discrimination. If you disclose a personal experience as an UCSD student, the course instructor is required to notify administrators. To disclose any such violence confidentially, contact: Office for the Prevention of Harassment and Discrimination (OPHD) – (858) 534-8298 or ophd.ucsd.edu

Majoring or Minor in Ethnic Studies:

Many students take an Ethnic Studies course because the topic is of great interest or because of a need to fulfill a college general education requirement. Often students have taken many ETHN courses out of interest, yet do not realize how close they are to a major, a minor, or even a double major. An Ethnic Studies major is excellent preparation for a career in law, education, medicine, public health, social work, counseling, public policy, and many other careers. If you would like information about the Ethnic Studies major or minor, please contact the undergraduate coordinator, Mónica Rodríguez de Cabaza at ethnicstudies@ucsd.edu.
